From: Nancy Harrison
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 3:00pm
Subject: Microsoft "settlement"

I have boycotted Microsoft software since 1995.
Try this: go to any retail store and try to buy peripherals (printers, scanners, modems etc) for a NON-Windows system.
Not real easy unless you have a Mac instead of a PC.
   Now, the real problem is M$'s determination to "de-commoditize"
the Internet. They want it all. Can you stop them?
I want the right to use another operating system with the software for the Internet now available thru the web, not designed by Microsoft.
   What if you bought a Porsche, and were told you had to have a Chevy engine in it? "Oh, if you want a Porsche engine you'll have to go to Germany and buy one and install it yourself.
Only Chevy engines are available for cars in the US"..

NHarrison, Linux and Mac user